Tomorrow is Memorial day in Charleroi, a yearly occasion in which the people of the state and the nation vie in doing honor to the soldier, living or dead. The observance here will be in the formal charge of the American Legion Post of Charleroi This evening the members of the Post will decorate the graves of the soldier dead as they apply to the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, and the World war as interred in the Monongahela, Maple Creek, Howe, Coal Center and Belle Vernon cemeteries—that is, local dead—and tomorrow morning they will assemble at 7 30 o'clock in the American Legion rooms to go to the Charleroi cemetery and Calvary cemetery to decorate and hold services for their deceased comrades of whatever war they may appertain. On their return they will re-assemble at the American Legion rooms and form in line of parade, time announced being 9.30 a. m. All members of the Legion, and all ex-service men, are requested to be present in uniform The parade, headed by a band, will traverse the principal streets of the borough, concluding at the Memorial board, corner of Fifth street and McKean avenue. In the line of parade will be the Boy Scouts, the Ladies' auxiliary, Borough firemen, the three surviving veterans of the Civil war, and fraternal organizations. At 10 o'clock the Memorial day services will begin which are to be held at the Pensylvania Railroad station. At this time the three remaining [illegible] guards will turn over in ceremony the carrying on of the Memorial Day exercises to the Legion in future years. S. D R. Hill will present the Auxiliary a Civil war relic in the form of a battlefield flag framed in behalf of the veterans. Burgess J. Bryant Tussing will give the Memorial Day address. This will be Mr Tussing's first public address made since becoming the borough's leading official. Mock grave ceremonies conducted by the Post will conclude the program. The Legion requests that all merchants close their places of business during the morning hours and that all sports be suspended until after the noon hour.

The program is as follows:

Boy Scouts will form in Fallowfield avenue, north of Fifth street; firemen in Fifth street at front of the Masonic building.

PROCLAMATION.

Friday, May 30, is a legal holiday designated as Memorial day. It is a day set aside for us to pay tribute to our honored dead. It is the soldier's day for him to take the lead in honoring those whose sacrifices have been greatest.

In a sense, it is a day of mourning, a day of remembrance and appreciation of the deeds of those who were in the service of our country—and have passed on.

I, J. B. Tussing, Burgess of Charleroi, believing it to be the duty of all true American citizens to properly observe this day, call upon citizens of our city to cease, insofar as possible, all business for the day, refrain from all sports and other diversions until after the services are ended, and take an active part and assist the local Post of the American Legion in the ceremonies of the day.

J. B. Tussing, Burgess.

A LEADING BODY CONFERS ON NEW CODE

County Commissioner James W. Walker returned yesterday from Harrisburg, where, as president of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Commissioners, he attended a meeting of the legislative committee of this organization. This committee held a joint meeting with the legislative reference bureau. It was an important session, as the proposed county code, a codification of the laws governing counties of the state, was thoroughly discussed. The code will come before the next legislature.

The county code failed to pass at [illegible] legislature. The new bill being prepared will be simplified and some changes made from the former bill. President Walker is not on the legislative committee, but was asked to be present. Later this committee will meet with the executive committee of the state association.

Members of the legislative committee present were H. M. Stone, of Dauphin county; J. G. Armstrong, Allegheny county; J. F Rogan, Erie county; H. F. Walker, Bradford county, and J D. Walker, Cambria county. With J. W. Walker present, and there being two other Walkers on the legislative committee, though not related, they had a sort of Walker reunion. The three took dinner together last evening.

Present in addition to J. W. Walker of the executive committee, was George F. Holmes, of Philadelphia county. Commissioners in that county are in a peculiar position as practically all the county is in the City of Philadelphia. Mr. Holmes is very much interested in the proposed county code. Efforts have been made at various times to do away with county commissioners in Philadelphia county.

PLAINTIFF LOSES SUIT ENTERED

Upon motion of counsel for the defendant, the Pennsylvania Railroad company, the court, Judge James I Brownson sitting, granted a compulsory nonsuit yesterday afternoon in the suit in which John F Sesesky was the plaintiff The ruling of the court was asked on the grounds that the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence in the accident, in which he was severely injured The plaintiff, a fireman, formerly employed with this company on a freight run, was seriously injured when struck by a passenger train in the yards at Bellaire, O, on September 21, 1923.

He was on duty on that day and had got off his engine to go and get some drinking water. He was returning and was walking alongside the tracks when hit by this passenger train, which was coming into the station at Bellaire. The pilot of the engine struck him. He was cut about the head, his back hurt, and he was otherwise injured. He was confined to the hospital for some time.

He averred that he did not hear the approaching train, due, he alleged, to the fact that the engine on which he was working was a defective one, and emitted much steam, and the noise of this drowned the noise of the approaching train.

It developed he was walking on a track at a time when he knew a train was about due on that track and that he of his own volition walked into the steam that was escaping from his own engine.

The suit of T. J. Crombie, et al., against the Borough of Donora has been continued. The suit of C. H. Gregg against M. A. Cooper has been settled. In the suit of John Gordon against W. H. Schafer, a nonsuit was taken. The suits of C. D. Lobb against Robert Friend, et al., and the William Penn Motor & Indemnity Exchange against N. G. Hadda have been continued.

Taken up after the [illegible] was that of John Miller, of Bunola, against Mike Juronoxvicz, of Shire Oaks, an action based on an auto accident on July 1 of last year, about a mile north of Finleyville, on the Library road. The contention of the plaintiff was that the defendant was traveling toward Finleyville, ran around a car that was ahead of him and ran into the plaintiff who was traveling toward Library. CUBS WIELD THE HICKORY WELL AND BEAT PIRATES

While the Pittsburgh Pirates started the game with a four-run lead at Chicago yesterday afternoon, they were unable to maintain it, as Manager McKechnie's guess that the prove puzzling to the Bruins went amiss as they drovet the star southpaw to cover and continued their onslaught on Lundgreen and Yde who succeeded him. Aside from the first homers off the delivery of Aldridge, they were not dangerous, even though they did garner two tallies in the ninth. Aldridge was effective after the first inning Cooper was hit hard by Chicago.

The game was replete with good and bad plays, but the most lamentable feature of the result is that by the defeat, Pittsburgh, a supposedly pennant contender, finds herself in seventh place this morning. This result is surprising to the fans and the judges of baseball, as a club with the players that Pittsburgh has, has no business in the seventh position. It has been said that one reason of their lowly position is, lack of morning practice, it raining in this section of Pennylvania about 20 of the 30 days of the month of May

COLLEANO FAMILY REACHES AMERICA

A family of eleven, known as the Colleano Circus Stars in their native country of Australia, where the family name has been prominently identified with the circus for many years, recently arrived in New York direct from the London, England, Coliseum where they have been a feature of the performance during the past year. The entire family was trained in the Colleano circus, an Australian institution of long standing. Each is an expert performer in from two to a dozen acts that constitute an Australian circus program This famous family of artists came to America under contract with Manager Downie to appear in the future on the program of the Walter L. Main Circus for the season of 1924. They will present a series of their most difficult sensational acts, using special equipment and costumes for each act same as were used in the London Coliseum engagement. The Walter L. Main Circus will give its grand free street parade and two performances in Monongahela Tuesday, June 3 and the Colleano Family will appear at each performance.

The circus will arrive in Monongahela early Tuesday morning, will be unloaded upon arrival, and the city of tents will be up and all animals, horses, wagons and equipment in their respective tents early in the day Three hundred and fifty people are fed in the Walter L. Main Circus, cook tent at each meal. There are many interesting sights for the curiosity seeker on the circus grounds and the public is invited to feast their eyes while the show is being placed on the lot.

TEN KNOWN DEAD; MORE THAN 60 HURT IN STORM

Okmulgee, Okla., May 29.—Rescue parties today were attempting to check the number of persons killed when a tornado struck Wetumka, an oil town near here, late Wednesday.

Ten bodies have been found and more than sixty persons were injured by the twister.

Sweeping down from the southwest the storm struck Wetumka just as the evening meal was being served. Most of those killed and injured were caught beneath the debris of their own homes. The twister cut a swath through the town a block wide.

Many homes, hastily constructed when oil was first struck here, crumpled under the first blast of the storm.

BIG CAST SUPPORTS DOROTHY IN LATEST PARAMOUNT

Dorothy Dalton in her new Paramount picture, "The Moral Sinner," a Ralph Ince production, which opens a three days' run at the Coyle Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is supported by a cast for which the term 'special' might have originated. James Rennie, last seen as the hero in "His Children's Children," has the leading man's role opposite the star; Alphonz Ethier and W. I. Percival also have prominent roles. Others include Paul McAllister, Frederick Lewis and Florence Fair. Miss Fair makes her screen debut in this production, an adaption of the stage success, "Leah Kleschna," in which Mrs. Fiske played the title role. J. Clarkson Miller wrote the screen play. It's a story of the underworld of Paris—a crook story with touches of light comedy.

Kitten No Longer

"What became of that little kitten you had?" asked a visitor of a small boy.

"Why, haven't you heard?"

"No. Was it drowned?"

"No."

"Lost?"

"No."

"Poisoned?"

"No."

"Then what did become of it?" said the visitor.

"It growed up into a cat."

Suspicious

Jack—So your father demurred at first because he didn't want to lose you.

Ethel—Yes, but I won his consent. I told him that he need not lose me; we could live with him, and so he would not only have me, but a son-in-law to boot.

Jack—H'm! I don't like that expression "to boot."—Boston Transcript.

Fable of the Unusual Cop

Once there was a traffic cop who was kind and considerate and who never failed, when the engine died on the street, to come over and say, "That's too bad. But don't get excited. Take your time getting her out. The people behind don't mind."

The copper died from being kissed so much by motorists.—Motor Age.

Welsh Had Their Way.

During the reign of Edward I. the Welsh rose against the English, declaring that they would never acknowledge allegiance to any prince "but of their own nation and language and of unblamable life." Edward II was born in a castle at Carnavon, Wales, and he was presented to the Welsh people as "a native-born prince of unblamable life who could speak no word of English." From that date the recognized heir to the English throne has borne the title of prince of Wales.

Old-Time Tavern Sign.

The museum of the city of New York has an old-time tavern sign on which is printed the following: "Four pence a night for bed. Six pence with supper. No more than five to sleep in one bed. No boots to be worn in bed. Organ grinders to sleep in the washhouse. No dogs allowed upstairs. No beer allowed in the kitchen. No razor grinders or tinkers taken in."

The Housewife Does Without.

"Pa," said Clarence, "what's the difference between a housewife and a baker?" "None of your foolishness, now, young man," growled his dad. "Well," replied Clarence, "a baker and a housewife both make bread out of dough, but the difference is the baker makes his dough out of bread."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Cheating the Birds.

In Japan, small fish are caught by trained cormorants, principally at night with the aid of jacklights. Rings are tied around the throats of the fishing birds to prevent their swallowing the catch. When their pouches are filled they are emptied in the boat well.

Heavy Pressure.

A British scientist experimenting with a stream-line filter along which liquids passed under pressure through thousands of tightly packed, perforated paper sheets, took the color out of red wine and tea and milk, leaving instead of the last named a tasteless fluid, like water.

Standing Army of Ants.

The standing army maintained by the white ants of Ceylon practices a sort of chemical warfare against its insect enemies. They squirt drops of a secretion in the face of other ants, which are said to drive them almost crazy.

IN MEMORIAM.

Tomorrow the people of this country again commingle in veneration to the soldier, living and dead. Particularly does the people meet in commemoration of the dead. It is another occasion when the people of the country can attest their appreciation of what the soldier, living and dead, did to make this land of ours the land of the free—to perpetuate democracy.

While present day folk love to talk of what the World War hero did to abolish the spectre of autocracy, and help to perpetuate democracy, worldwide, we must alsoo hold in remembrance those of the Revolutionary war, the Mexican war, the Civil war, and the Spanish-American war, for they too contributed to what is hoped it will be, enduring peace.

Holding the valorous deeds, the acts of self-sacrifice, that all these veterans did for present day humanity, that America and the world may be free from the hand of the tyrant, let us not forget that in honoring them our offices in their behalf are not fulfilled. Many of the soldiers living today, as they appertain to the Civil, the Spanish-American, and the World war are physically incapacitated, and it is for us, through the Red Cross and other mediums to alleviate distress and make their pilgrimage here brighter and better.

Tomorrow being a day set aside for the old soldier, primarily, who is now stepping aside to let the younger veteran assume the burden, let us recall his valorous deeds, his sacrifices, and give him the word of cheer in his few remaining days. In the course of only a very few years the Civil War veteran, like the soldiers of other wars, will be memories only. While honoring the World War veteran tomorrow, and the veteran of the Spanish-American war let us not forget that after all Memorial day was instituted for the veteran of the Civil war, and by word and deed convince him that his work and worth too are highly appreciated.

H. S. COMMENCEMENT.

High School commencement at the Auditorium this evening, aside from the annual Memorial Day observance Friday, is the chief subject of local comment. A high school commencement is of greater importance in a way than a college commencement in that it demonstrates the graduates have the ability and character to press on for even greater educational victories and honors, if they are in a position so to do.

The class representing Charleroi High this year is one of the best individually and collectively to leave the portals of the local institution. For the honors that they have won, credit is due them for their individual and collective efforts, as well as to their instructors who by their painstaking with the graduates, have contributed to their reaching the coveted goal. Fortified with learning as absorbed through the schools and starting out in life with characters that have been moulded in accordance with their educational advantages, and training, the students of the class of 1924, Charleroi High School, embark in life's career with flattering prospects. Let them, however, still hew close to the line of honorable endeavor, for it is by this method and this method, principally, that each and all may reach the harbor of success.

A traveler in Pennsylvania noticed that a farmer was having trouble with his horse. It would start, go slowly for a short distance, and then stop again. Thereupon the farmer would have great difficulty in getting it started. Finally the traveler approached and asked: "Is your horse sick?"

"Not as I know of."

"Is he balky?"

"No, but he is so durned fraid I'll say 'Whoa' and he won't hear me, that he stops every once in a while to listen."

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky. — "I was rundown, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Ky.

LA FOLLETTE TO LEAD FINAL DRIVE FOR ACTION

Washington, May 29—Senator Robert M. La Follette will return to the Senate Monday to lead a final drive for action on the Progressive legislative program.

Absent since January because of illness and consequent convalescence, the Progressive leader and possible presidential candidate, today sent word to his followers he would come back to take up the fight.

Word of his coming was received with jubilation by Progressives who find their farm relief and railroad legislation crushed hopelessly beneath towering legislative jam.

The Progressives are fighting a losing fight and seem overwhelmed by Republicans and Democrats who are opposed to present farm relief bills or any attempts to revise the Esch-Cummins railroad law. They met their first defeat on the new compromise tax bill and new leaders are planning to adjourn a week from Saturday. The return of LaFollette seems to be the only hitch in the plans of leaders to adjourn.

Progressive legislation is at the bottom of the pile. The McNary-Haugen farm relief cannot be taken up in the Senate until the House passes upon it.

Rail legislation in the House has met such opposition that there seems little possibility of favorable action on even the Barkley bill abolishing the railroad labor board.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE RIVER AT MASONTOWN

Washington, May 29.—A bill which will enable Fayette and Greene counties to build a bridge across the Monongahela river at Masontown was passed by the Senate last night.

This action followed a visit to Washington by the Fayette county commissioners who conferred with Senator Pepper and Representative Kendall. Kendall, it was said, will try to have the bill passed in the House this week.

The bridge, to be constructed by the two counties, will cost $1,250,000.

In Society's Realm

The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Frye, Mrs. E. B. Payne, Mrs. Leola Carroll and Mrs. Ridley Anderson.

The Crescent club of Monongahela have secured Yerkes Happy Six for their first summer dance, which will be held at Eldora Park, June the 2nd. This orchestra, composed of six talented musicians, is famous for its Columbia Record reproductions. They will feature the latest dance hits along with other entertainment. Dacing will be staged from 9 to 1 with special cars at the patrons service.

TINNEY ACCUSED OF KNOCKING A GIRL "COLD"

Minneola, N. Y., May 29—Frank Tinney, famous black face comedian, was in custody here today on complait of Imogene Wilson, Follies beauty and known as "Broadway's loveliest girl," who told police the comedian "knocked me cold."

Tinney was taken from his summer home at Baldwin, Long Island, last midnight and held for Manhattan detectives. A warrant was issued for his arrest yesterday, after Miss Wilson and detectives had spent the day searching for him in New York.

The comedian was held in the Nassau county jail here during the night and was to be taken to Manhattan for arraignment at 10.30 a. m.

Train Indian Boys in Fine Art of Stealing

The Stone Hammer society, an organization to teach Hidatsa Indian boys how to steal, is described by Miss Frances Densmore of the Smithsonian Institution's bureau of American ethnology in a study of the music of these little known and almost extinct North Dakota Indians which has just been announced.

While the chief purpose of the society was to train boys in stealth and theft, there were strict regulations of the manner in which the stealing was done. The Stone Hammer raids took place at night, and it was required that, before sunset, the boys go through camp announcing that they would steal that night. Everyone was fully notified and proceeded to hide their provisions in what they considered the safest places.

It was not unusual, Miss Densmore reports, for the Stone Hammer boys to lift the blanket on which an old woman was sleeping, lay the blanket and the old woman gently to one side, and take the dried meat or other food from beneath her bed without waking her.

The next night the boys made up packs of gifts for the people who had been robbed, and it was considered that everything was properly adjusted.

Builders Unable to Make Wind Scapegoat

The wind that accommodatingly comes in at the kitchen window on a summer morning and into the library or across the front porch on a summer evening, when the architect has given due consideration to orientation factors in certain locations, becomes a veritable demon when it topples a brick wall or a billboard onto a pedestrian. And, demon though it is, it is designated an "act of God" in law if the wind were hanging up a record run. This circumstance opens the way to a fertile field of excuses in court cases. The weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture was recently called upon to furnish evidence in a court case concerning a wall which went up in the afternoon and down at night; and in the lack of a justifiable windstorm, cross-examiners developed some embarrassing facts about the manner of the wall's construction.

Simple Hairdressing

While one or two ornamental pins may be stuck into the hair of the Chinese or Japanese woman, they are at best only added attractions, and all the work of keeping the complicated coil and elaborate structure firmly in place is done by one pin and one pin only, the Detroit News says.

Oil of camellia, cactus, or some other perfumed lubricant is applied freely while the hair is in process of being combed. This combing, as well as the final arranging, is hardly ever done by the well-born woman herself, but by her waiting maid. The hair is brought to a perfection of black satiny gloss and smoothness, in which a stiffening of gum plays no small part. It is then bound tightly close to the head with a silk cord, coiled, and the ends tied with silk. It is then twisted into the desired knot and the famous single pin deftly slipped through the center, maintaining the whole. No matter how thick and heavy the tresses may be, the one spoonshaped "pin" does the trick.

Capital's Government

The government of the Federal City (as President Washington called it until the commissioners gave it his name in 1791) has been since 1874 vested in a commission of three officers, appointed by the president and the senate. They have charge of all municipal and administrative affairs, police, street improvements and schools. Congress is the sole legislature of the city and district, the citizens having no suffrage. Since the government owns nearly half the property in the district, and the city exists largely for the benefit of the officers—legislative, executive and judicial—it has been settled by act of congress that the government pays half the annual expenses of the city government, the other being taxed upon the property of the citizens.—Kansas City Star.

Official Headpiece

"Halt, there!" commanded Constable Sam T. Slackputter, the well-known guardian of the peace and dignity of Petunia. "Consider yourself under arrest for exceeding the speed limit!"

"Wha-at!" returned the offending motorist. "How do you know how fast I was going? You didn't even glance at your watch?"

"I don't need to. If I see you coming and turn my head away just as you pass the Methodist church corner, and then turn it back and you've reached the hay scales, I know you're exceeding the limit. You may say I can't tell time by my head, but I've been using it for forty-nine years now, and know just about what it can do."—Kansas City Star.

New Street-Car Idea

Hope appeared on the horizon of the strap hanger the other day in Detroit in the form of a new type of street car. This car, or rather three-in-one car train, is designed to give greater seating capacity for the same street space than the usual type of cars. It consists of three connecting cars on four sets of wheels and seats 140 people. The street railway company also wins, as the three-in-one train weighs less and is cheaper to run than three ordinary type cars.

SIXTY-FIVE COMPANIES ARE TO BE IN LINE

Pottsville, May 29—The committee in charge of arrangements for the annual parade which features the convention of the Six County Firemen's Association, one of the largest and most picturesque yearly events in the eastern part of the state, has announced that 60 companies will be in line this year.

That will mean, it is said, that between six and eight thousand uniformed firemen with twenty bands and a half a million dollars worth of apparatus will parade this year. Other companies may be able to send delegates at the last minute as there are 150 companies in the association.

A large fund has been raised here for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors and this is expected to be one of the biggest meetings the organization has ever held. Hazleton will likely have the convention next year, it was said.

HOFFMAN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE

St. George, Staten Island, May 29—(United Press)—Harry Hoffman was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Maud Bauer by a jury here today and was sentenced immediately by Judge Tierman to from 20 years to life in Sing Sing prison.

The jury returned verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree at 7:10 a. m., after more than 12 hours deliberation.

Hoffman collapsed, his head in the palms of his hands, when he heard the verdict.

Hoffman received the pronouncement of the foreman, "We find the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree," with a distinct shock. He leaned forward a bit, trembled on his toes, and then slumped into a chair.

Defense lawyers waived the usual 48-hour stay and sentence was pronounced.

During the night more than 2,000 persons waited in front of the court house, for the findings of the jury. They were refused admittance to the court room and a squad of 35 patrolmen kept them in order.

Apparently there was no question about guilt—but the degree of punishment was the argued point. Shortly after midnight the jury filed into the court room and asked for the judge's instructions relating to murder in the first and second degrees.

Hoffman had been led into the court room. his face haggard after the long siege of court questioning and the vigil of waiting. He showed no emotion, but eagerly scanned the faces of the jurors.

Hoffman's wife was not in the court room when the verdict was read as she remained at home with her two children.

The murder for which Hoffman was found guilty was March 25 on a lonely Staten Island road.

Mrs. Maud Bauer, out driving with her mother and children when her motor car became mired in the mud. She went for aid and a motorist in a Ford sedan offered her a "lift." There followed an assault upon the pretty woman and when she resisted she was shot and her body thrown to the side of the road.

There were no witnesses to the slaying and the case built around Hoffman was entirely circumstantial. He drove a Ford sedan, he attempted to hide a .25 caliber pistol following the murder; he wore tortoise shell spectacles like the murderer and wore a brown coat and brown hat, parts of the costume of the slayer.

NATURE OF JAPANESE NOTE ON EXCLUSION ANXIOUSLY AWAITED

Washington, May 29—Japan's note making a "solemn protest" to the United States against the immigration law excluding Japanese arrived at the embassy here today.

As soon as deceded translated, and put in shape. Ambassador Hanihara will present it to the state department probably today.

High American officials are anxiously waiting to learn the nature of the note which is expected to be worded in strong terms.

Before Secretary Hughes replies he will discuss with President Coolidge the serious situation that has developed in relations between the United States and Japan.

Secrecy is maintained at the Japanese embassy concerning the contents of the communication. It is believed however that its purpose is to produce a response from the American government so that an exchange of notes can be published and the exact positions of the two nations clarified.

Japan may base her protest on a contention that the exclusion law violates. at least in spirit, existing treaties.

A Talk With a Charleroi Man

Mr. Fletcher Tells Something of Interest to Charleroi Folks.

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Fletcher of Meadow Ave., should be mighty helpful here in Charleroi.

Mornings my back was so stiff and sore I ached all over. My kidneys became sluggish and the secretions were unnatural. Doan's Pills from Finen's Pharmacy drove all signs of the trouble from me."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

In Memory of Sir Knight Past Commander CHARLES JAMES SCHULTZ.

"So let him sleep that dreamless sleep, our sorrows clustering 'round his head;

Be comforted, ye loved who weep, he lives with God—he is not dead"

Once again death hath sumoned a Sir Knight Companion. and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light unto darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit, "well done," from the Supreme Commander.

And Whereas, The all-wise and merciful Father has called our beloved and respected Companion home,

And Whereas, He having been a true and faithful Companion of our Ancient and Illustrious Order, therefore be it

Resolved, That Valley Echo Commandery. No. 379, Ancient and Illustrious Order Knights of Malta, of Charleroi, Pa., in testimony of her loss, tenders to the family of the deceased companion our sincere condolence in this deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

W. E. Hazlett, P. C.
Geo. D. Youngman, P. C.
Thos. Hudspith, P. C.

Green be his memory in the Order's heart,

He loved so well, through all his true life's span,

Bless'd be his rest, who acted well his part,

Who honor'd God in doing good to man.
